The Clock Without Hands

The business that attempts to grow without advertising is about as successful as the clock without hands.

All the movements it makes amount to little; for people don't know about them.

Yours may be a splendid business, but people are too busy to find it unless you tell them about it by advertising.

They do know about the business of the fellow who keeps them posted through the columns of this and other newspapers. He invites their trade and tells them why he wants it; or rather why it is to their advantage to give it to him.

Being a live business man he knows how to treat customers after he gets them. He knows he can make his advertising pay only by living up to his promises.

Don't let your business be like a clock without hands. Advertise. Begin now.

W. M. LEISERSON NAMED TO AID INDUSTRIAL PROBE

Wisconsin Man Will Investigate Employment Agencies and Suggest Reforms

Announcement was made today of the appointment of W. M. Leiserson, state superintendent of employment offices in Wisconsin, to take charge of the investigation being made by the United States commission on industrial relations into irregularity of employment and to assist in formulating recommendations for remedial legislation.

Mr. Leiserson was recently consulted by Mayor Mitchell of New York city and Gov. Glynn of New York as to the best means for dealing with the unemployment problem. His ideas were adopted by Gov. Glynn and are embodied in bills pending before the New York legislature.

The commission Mr. Leiserson is now conducting an investigation of interstate, state and municipal public and private employment agencies. He will make recommendations concerning their administration and supervision, and the co-ordination of different kinds of agencies.

ABLE TO SAVE MONEY ON SALARY OF $1,500

Married Man Takes Issue With Unmarried Clerk Who Gets $1,000.

Thinks Latter's Salary Would Enable Him to Contribute to Retirement Plan.

Answering the claim of a government clerk, published in The Star last week, that he has a hard time living on a salary of $1,000 a year, although single, and that a married man with a family would be a hardship on civil service employees, another man, who gets a salary of $1,500 a year, has written to The Star to say that the government clerk must be extravagant. He adds, however, that he thinks the salaries of government employees should be raised and that $1,000 a year should be the minimum.

This man's letter is as follows:

"I am not a government clerk, directly, but receive a salary of $1,500 per year. I am a married man and yet I manage to get along on the same expenditure per month that my friend does who states that he spends $78.30 out of his $83.33. Hence I manage to save about $500 per year, or would save that amount if I didn't have the additional item of travel which my friend does not have and which costs me about $200 per year.

Table of Expenditures.

	His	Mine	His	Mine
Rent	$12.00	$10.00	Marriage	$25.00

Doesn't Need Toilet Waters.

"I do not know what he means by toilet necessities, as I see he has his hair and haircut expertly cleaned separately. If he means toilet waters and tonics, then he is spending money needlessly. I have included 'tailor repairs and pressing' in my clothing account. I can see no good reason for squandering money at the movies at the rate of three dollars a week. It is not necessary for me to do that and I have all the amusement I need. Besides, I believe a government clerk is entitled to a better standard of living than a private citizen. If he is unmarried he must be boarding at an expensive place. If he is married he must pay more for his room than is necessary. I had a fine room in a private home for $10 per month and an attic living there though I now have three furnished rooms and bath for $25 per month. I walk to work, over three miles, every morning, and thus save car fare. I can heartily recommend walking. I have no lodge or society dues to pay, but do pay not less than $5 per month my church. I believe myself and get a haircut once a month, which I assume is what he does. Twenty per cent of his salary is for a government clerk to pay for clothes. Don't see how he does it unless his tastes are somewhat out of proportion to his salary and he buys fifty-cent socks and seventy-cent neckties.

A Good Deal for Clothes.

"That means $126 per year, which is a good deal. I spent $67 last year for clothing. He spends $160 for newspapers and magazines. That is unreasonable. One dollar will cover all such expenses, especially with so many opportunities for free reading at the libraries. A man whose habits cause him to spend $4 per month for tobacco out of a salary of $83.33 is not deserving of sympathy. It does not seem to me to be an exhibition of good business sense for a man to burn up 5 per cent of his salary, and when a member of Congress sees or hears of such waste of money naturally is inclined to look with some disfavor on a retirement plan under which the government shall foot the entire bill.

"But comparisons are odious. I simply give these figures to show that a government clerk on $1,000 a year can save money to contribute to some sort of a retirement plan if necessary. I do believe, however, that the clerks are underpaid and that salaries should be increased all along the line. I think $1,000 should be a minimum and that Uncle Sam's 'penny-wise and pound-foolish' policy in this, as in many other cases, should be abolished."

CHARGE OF BOYCOTTING IS NOT SUBSTANTIATED

Department of Justice Passes Upon Complaint Against Allied Printing Trades.

NEW YORK, March 18.—What is regarded by the council as a substantial exonerations of the Allied Printing Trades Council of several eastern cities on the charges made against them by Doubleday, Page & Co., publishers, is contained in a letter from the Department of Justice to the United States district attorney, H. Snowden Marshall, made public last night. The complaint of the publishing firm was that the organizations in question had attempted a boycott injurious to them by ordering their members employed by photo-engravers in Philadelphia, Boston and elsewhere to refuse work on engravings which the firm had ordered from manufacturers in the cities.

The case was made the subject of an extended inquiry by a federal grand jury here, the opinion of the Sherman law being the specific charge made.

Not Regarded as Violation.

The letter received by Mr. Marshall is signed by Carroll Todd, assistant to the United States attorney general. Mr. Todd found that it would not seem to be a violation of the federal anti-trust act for the members of the council collectively to refuse to do work on a book or magazine being printed or illustrated in shops employing non-union workmen.

Regarding the sending of circulars to customers of non-union shops in attempt to deter them from having printing or engraving done in the non-union shops by threatening to appeal to state boards of education throughout the country not to buy books from publishing houses employing non-union printing shops, Mr. Todd says that such action would be political rather than that of the nature of a boycott as declared unlawful in the Danbury hatters' case, and would not constitute a restraint of interstate commerce within the principle of any case decided by the Supreme Court.

Medicine Company's Complaint.

In relation to a complaint made against the Allied Printing Trades Council by a patent medicine company that a publication of the former had contained an appeal to union men not to patronize the firm because work on its circulars had been done by non-union electrotypes, Mr. Todd says the measures taken by the electrotypes' union, specifically named in the complaint, should be stopped. It was held that the decision in the Danbury hatters' case covered their complaint.

After a conference between Mr. Marshall and counsel for the Allied Printing Trades Council it was decided that the calling off of the alleged boycott would be satisfactory to Mr. Marshall, but that the union would not be satisfied with the bringing of an equity injunction suit against the council.

AN AMERICAN DEATH HOUSE.

This rude stone hovel tells a tragic story of ignorance and death in our own enlightened and humane land. It stands in the depths of the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky, and in it died a dozen or more consumptive fifty years ago. Some one started the story that the cave would cure consumption. This structure was built and several hopeful victims went into the darkness and the dampness to die. The crazed died with them. Such a story seems utterly preposterous in these days when God's sunshine and air are throttling tuberculosis every day, but only bitter results disproved it half a century ago.

ROCKVILLE, Md., March 18, 1914. The grand jury here yesterday afternoon returned an indictment charging Thomas J. Garrett of Washington, formerly a resident of Linden, this county, with assault with intent to murder. The indictment was the result of the revolver duel in which Garrett and Mrs. Saldes C. Hutton engaged in the latter's home at Linden the night of November 6 last. Both were seriously wounded and spent some time in Washington hospitals undergoing treatment. Garrett has retained Attorneys Preston B. Ray and John A. Garrett to defend him. His case has been docketed for trial at the term of criminal court which begins here Thursday of next week.

Mr. Hutton has not been indicted. Both she and Garrett were before the grand jury. Attorneys Huffy & Huffy of Washington have been looking after Mrs. Hutton's interests.

The will of Samuel English, who died here recently leaving an estate valued at about $100,000, has been admitted to probate in the orphans' court here. It bequeaths to Milton Morgan English, son of the testator, two houses in Rockville and the residue of the estate is left in equal shares to the other children—Mrs. Blanche McKenny, Miss Annie Mabel English and Morgan Michael English. The instrument was executed July 15, 1913, and names Morgan Michael English executor to serve with bond.

The will of Prof. Thomas Story, who died a few days ago at his home at Burnsville, has also been admitted to probate here. The entire estate is left to the widow, Mrs. Sadonia Story, for life. Upon her death, Edward H. Story, a son, gets a house in Burnsville, Mrs. Helen Darby, daughter of the testator, a piano, and the other personal property to be equally divided among Edward H. Story, Mrs. Darby and a grandchild of the testator, Rebecca Fields. The son, Edward, is instructed to pay $100 to Frank W. Story, another son. The will was executed September 20, 1910. Mrs. Story is executrix.

ARMY OF UNEMPLOYED HINT AT REVOLUTION

National Guard Officer Alleges Plot to Seize Rock Island Arsenal.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 18.—In a report to the War Department in Washington Adjutant Gen. Forbes of the National Guard of California has given official cognisance to an alleged plan of "Gen." Kelley's unemployed army to seize the federal arsenal at Rock Island, Ill., in order to equip 600,000 men for a revolution against the government.

Gen. Forbes' report is based on one made to him by Lieut. Franklin Grimes of a Sacramento company of the state guard, who joined Kelley's army as a spy.

Outline of the Alleged Plot.

Lieut. Grimes related how the leaders of the unemployed divulged their plan for capturing the United States government. There was to be a gathering of many "armies" at Chicago, according to Grimes, the men reaching that city as best they might. The leaders, according to the militia spy, believed they could assemble 600,000 men there. Then, moving in force, they would capture the Rock Island arsenal.

Railroads out of Chicago would be commandeered, said the lieutenant, and the unemployed force, well armed, would be rushed toward Washington, where it would have the federal government at its mercy.

The plan was then to spread a nationwide rebellion of working men against employers of labor which would depose all civil and military authorities and install the army's leaders as supreme.

Among other remarkable statements was one that the leaders were relying for support on a large Canadian contingent.

Kelley's Army Dispersed.

"Gen." Charles Kelley's army, which began its march on Washington, D. C., 1,800 strong from San Francisco ten days ago, has been dispersed. Only a handful of irreconcilables remained last night in the camp on the Lolo levee, to which the army was driven last week by Sacramento deputies.

Sheriff Monroe of Yolo county served notice on the anti-Kelley faction of the army that its leaders, seven in number, would be released from jail if the faction dispersed by nightfall. The order was accepted and throughout the day the men departed in small groups.

No weight is attached by army officers to the reported revolutionary plans of the

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy. Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy. Has Nose Made From Rib.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 18.—With a new nose, made from one of his ribs, strapped to his face, which was denuded of features in a saw mill accident, three years ago, Ross Allen, a young Canadian, is recovering from a remarkable operation at a hospital here. It was the most important of a series of skin grafts which have given to him new lips and now a new nose, covered with skin taken from the man's forehead. This last operation was completed a week ago, and is considered a success by the surgeons. Allen is said to be doing well.

Yale Freshmen on Probation.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 18.—As a result of the "bottle night" disturbance among the Yale freshmen at their dormitories Sunday night, 200 members of the class have been placed on probation for an indefinite time. This means that the athletic teams of the class will be considerably handicapped, because students on probation are not allowed to participate in games. Two freshmen were arrested for throwing bottles at pedestrians, and were fined $25 and costs each in the city court.
